

PARTNERING FOR IMPACT

THE CHALLENGE

In Tanzania, many schools and teachers are unable to meet the needs of students with learning difficulties - classrooms are overcrowded, teachers are undertrained and underpaid, and many teaching practices are outdated. Toa Nafasi is on a mission to ensure the vulnerable students have an equal opportunity for a quality education. One way to ensure that is through teacher training.

THE SOLUTION

The Toa Nafasi Project is an expert in serving the schools in their community. TeachUNITED is an expert in providing educator training to schools, districts, and partners around the globe. Together, a powerful partnership was formed to support both teachers and students most in need.

TeachUNITED conducted two workshops designed to build foundational skills for the educators and staff from Toa Nafasi.

Workshop 1

Topics: growth mindset, student agency, and engagement

Outcomes: opportunities to implement growth mindset practices, high-engagement lesson design

Workshop 2

Topics: Bloom's Taxonomy of instructional strategies

Outcomes: help students move toward analyzing, evaluation, and creating in their learning journey

ABOUT

In Swahili, toa nafasi means “provide a chance,” expressing their mission to give every learner in the primary school classroom an opportunity to succeed, regardless of his or her learning style. The Toa Nafasi model is a three-tiered approach of assessment, referral, and curriculum modification that has enabled significant development in students in the early grades of public primary school in Kilimanjaro, Tanzania.
